A LILLIPUTIAN HOUSEHOLD. The Home of Gen. Tem. Thumb at Mid-dlebore'; Mass.

The Rev. W. H. Adams, well known in Charlest a c; the former pastor of the Circular Chu. h, but now residing in Massachusett, has written a letter in which he dus graphically describes the home and mode of living of the world-renowned dwarfs, Gen. and Mrs. Tom Thumb:

home and mode of living of the world-renowned dwarfs, Gen. and Mrs. Tom Thumb:

Charles S. Stratton, called by Barnum "Tom Thumb," and dignified by Quoen Victoria with the soubriquet of "General," is, with 1.1s estimable wife, an attendant at the First Congregational Church, Middleooro, Mass. His elegant mansion, two miles from that town, was built six years since on his farm of one hundred and fifty acres, adjoining his wife's early home, where her sister, the general's invitation, his pastor, Rev. Nathan T. Dyer, and myself, with ladies, visited his summer cottage, four miles distant, on the shores of Assowompset Pond. With its connecting bodies, Long Pond, Great and Long Pond, Great and Little Quittacus, it is the largest collection of water in the Strat, Assowompset being seven, and Long Pond ten miles in length. These rive the General opportunity to indulge his taste for yachting, and in a degree gratify his propensity for travel, which public life since he was four years old has made inveterate. We were received at the cottage by Mrs. Stratton with all the grace and courtliness of a truly refined lady. We were immediately won by her simbility, and charmed at the dignified ease with which, having scented her guesta, she assumed her chair of ordinary size, and, with feet reposing on a cushioned stool, entertained us with vivacious and winning words. We could even imagine from a slightly magisterial air—whatshe afterwards cenfirmed—that she had once taught school! One can scarcely realize that he is not in fairy land when conversing with this gentle creature of but forty-three inches in height, yet in full attire and with the appearance of a woman. Som Major Newell, in his fishing garb, reaching the landing, extended a cordial welcome. He impressed us pleasantly; a young man of rather undersize, sprightly in conversation, and of engaging address. Soon Mrs. Stratton exclaimed:

"TREER COMES THE GENERAL!"

TROLLING FOR BASS.

TROLLING FOR BASS.

It was engaging to see his mighty efforts to hand in the line, band over hand, and the energy with which he threw out again the unsuccessful hook. After an hour's sail we returned to the cottage, parting with our tiny hosts at the landing, having promised in a week's time to accept the hospitalities of their home. The General, with his Leghcan straw hat reaching up to our lowest vest button, and well nigh concealing his brown linen sack and little feet, as we stood around him exchanging parting salutations, cordially repeated the invitation. Yesterday we had that unique enloyment. Probably there is none similar elsewhere in this world. The public are not admitted to their sumptuous home. Only a few favored friends, who its proprietors are confident will appreciate the privilege, are received. It is a three-story wooder mansion, tastefully painted, with plazzas and bay windows commanding an extensive view of variegated scenery, with the dome and spires of Middlebore in the distance, and having the air of luxury. A Scotch maid announced us, who subsequently told one of the laties "that they could not help loving Mr. 2-4 Mrs. Stratton, who were always kind and seeking to make them happy." The General gave us a hearty welcome, "regretting that we had not come earlier," and unhered us into Adoraing the dining-room walls were photographs of the parents, b-Lhers and sisters of our hosts, represseding persons rather above the average height and weight. Our enjoyment of this English supper, as Mrs. Stratton designated the viands, was marred by the attempt of a drunken peddler, who had beldly driven up the carriageway, to force an entrance into the house. He "wished to see Tom Thumb," he said. The servants and Mr. Bump, Mrs. Strattoc's father, provented the intrusion, not without a bitter conflict, which drew the gentlemen from the table. All this while the little lady eat with the utmost composure. After supper our pleasure was enhanced by the presence of her

The family name is from the French, Bon Puzes, corrupted to "Bumpus," several families of which name reside in this county, and finally into "Bump." The great family Bible was unclasped; one of the ministers read an apprepriate selection, and cil kuelt in prayer, in which bleasings were invoked on the household, and thanks returned for their preservation in their many trevels; and they were commended to the care of a guiding Providence in their contemplated tour. Gathering around the planc, one of our ladies played and sang, at the General's desire and for the first time that the family circle had heard it, the song commendating the death of Minnie Warrawa, and dedicated the refineds. Tears were in their ways as its conclusion.

We let Mr. and Afts. Stratton, her parents, and Maj. Newell, standing on the plance waving their stravella, and drawe out into the right homeward with many pleasurable thoughts.

THE SURBENDER AT APPOMATTOX.

Going up stairs we feit inclined to be so unmannerly as to take two steps at a time, for the stairs of both flights seemed but four or five inches each in height; interview in the Philadelphia Times.

"On the night of the 7th of April was into sewing machine, a wedding present, fifteen years ago, from the tenerprising firm, who at their own expense caused this exquisitely pearly inside and panel-painted plaything to precede the little travellers, in every land they visited around the globe. It is a plaything in size alone, Mrs. Stratton making it do good service to the present. In the front entry over the cuttance was the General's grand piano, about two feet high, one of his pastor's fingers striking three of the keys at once, and with difficulty covering only one. It was made in England, and cost $500, being inlaid with pearl and richly glided and enamelled. But the General was "out of practice," indeed, "had given up playing altogether." Perhaps our greatest treat was the inspection of THEIR OWN APARTMENT.

Here were the Panetes. Additted to the the caventry that could be tracted with the understanding that the army should be currendered if discovered the next morning, after feeling!

that the army should be surrendered if I discovered the next morning after feeling the enemy's line, that the infantry had arrived in such force that I could not cut the army forward. I learned that he was about two miles off, with his men faced just opposite from mine, fighting for his life. I thus saw that the case was hopeless. The further each of us drove the enemy, the further we drifted apart and the more exposed we left our wagon trains and artillery, which was packed between us. Every time either of us broke only opened the gap the wider. I saw plainly that the Federals would soon rush in between us and then there would have been no army. I therefore determined to send a flag of truce. I called Major Hunter of my staff to me, and told him that I wanted him to carry a flag of truce forward. He replied:

"General, I have no flag of truce."

"I told him to get one. He replied:

than one suit at a time. Pray, can't you do as much?"

"Ah, but," said the youth, "think of the hundreds of fine houses you own, and the rental they bring you!"

"What better am I off for that?" replied the rich man. "I can only live in one house at a time; as for the money I receive for rents, why, I can't eat or wear it, I can only use it to buy other houses for other people to live in; they are the beneficiaries, not I."

"But you can buy splendid furniture."

clean from weed-seeds of the numerous and various species not unlikely to be mixed therewith, is one of the most difficult things the farmer has to do about this time, the same being true of both grass seeds and clover seeds. We have seen it reported that one hundred and twenty-five thousand bushels of red clover seed are exported annually from the United States and Canada to Great Britain and the Continent of Europe. Both exporters and importers should be experts in this trade as also of grass seeds.

one who has struck a rusty nail in his foot, or knee or hand, or some other portion of his body, and that lock-jaw resulted therefrom, of which the patient died. If every person who was aware of a perfect remedy for all such wounds, and would apply it, then all such reports must cease. But although we can give the remedy, we cannot enforce its application. Some will not employ it because they think it too simple; others will have no faith in it when they read it; while others think such a wound of small account, and not worth fussing it; while others think such a wound of small account, and not worth fussing over, until it is too late to do any good. Yet all such wounds can be healed without the fatal consequences which follow them. The remedy is simple, almost always on hand, and can be applied by any one, and, what is better, it is infallible. It is simply to smoke the wound, or any bruise or wound that is inflamed, with burning wool or woolen cloth. Twenty minutes in the smoke of wool will take the pain out of the worst wound; repeated two or three times, it will allay the worst cases of inflammation arising from a wound. People may aneer at "the old man's remedy" as much as they please, but when they are afflicted just let them try it. It has eaved many lives and much pain, and is worthy of being printed in letters of gold and put in every home.

SYMPTOMS OF WORMS.

THE countenance is pale and leadencolored, with occasional flushes, or a circumscribed spot on one or both cheeks; the eyes become dull; the pupils dilate; an azure semicircle runs along the lower eye-lid; the nose is irritated, swells, and sometimes bleeds; a swelling of the upper lip; occasional headache, with humming or throbbing of the ears; an unusual secretion of saliva; slimy or furred tongue; breath very foul, particularly in the morning; appetite variable, sometings voracious, with a gnawing sensation of the stomach, at others, entirely gone; fleeting pains in the stomach; occasional nausea and vomiting; violent pains throughout the abdomen; bowels irregular, at times costive; atools slimy; not unfrequently tinged with blood; belly swollen and hard; urine turbid; respiration occasionally difficult, and accompanied by hiccough; cough sometimes dry and convulsive; uneasy and disturbed sleep, with grinding of the teeth; temper variable, but generally irritable, &c.

Whenever the above symptoms are found to exist. DR. C. McLANE'S VERMIFUGE will certainly effect a cure. IT DOES NOT CONTAIN MERCURY in any form; it is an innocent preparation, not capable of doing the slightest injury to the most tender infant.

The genuine Dr. McLane's VER-MIFUGE bears the signatures of C. Mc-LANE and FLEMING BROS. on the wrapper.

DR. C. McLANE'S LIVER PILLS

are not recommended as a remedy "for all the ills that flesh is heir to," but in affections of the liver, and in all Bilious Complaints, Dyspepsia and Sick Headache, or diseases of that character, they stand without a rival.

AGUE AND FEVER. No better cathartic can be used preparatory YELLOW FEVER-BLACK VOMIT. It is too soon to forget the rava es of this terrible disease, which will no doubt return in a more malignant and virulent form in the fall of 1879.

MERRELL'S HEPATINE, a Remedy discovered in Southern Nubia and used with such wonderded in Southern Nubia and used with such wonderded results in South America where the most aggravated cases of fewer are found, causes from one to two ounces of bile to be filtered or strained from fine blood each time it passes through the Liver, as long as an excess of bile exists. By its wonderful action on the Liver and Stomach the HEPATINE not only prevents to a certainty any kind of Fever and Black Vomit, but also cures Headache, Constipation of the Bowels, Dyspepsia and all Malarial diseases.

No one need fear Yellow Fever who will expel the Milarial Poison and excess of bile from the blood by using MERRELL'S HEPATINF, which is sold by all Drugglists in 23 cent and 8100 bottles, or will be sent by express by the Proprietors, or will be sent by express by the Proprietors, as F. REMARKABLE CURE OF SCROFULA, &c.

Case of Col. J, C. Branson.

Kingston, Ga., September 15, 1871.

Gents—For sixteen years I have been agreat sufferer from Scrofula in its most distressing forms. I have been confined to my room and been used, and the most eminent physicians consulted, without only a decided benefit. Thus prostrated, distressed, desponding, I was advised by Dr. Ayer, of Floyd County, Ga., to commence the use of your Compound Extract Stillingia. Language is as insufficient to describe the relief I obtsined from the use of the Stillingia as it is to convey an adequate idea of the intensity of my suffering before using your medicine; sufficient to say, I abandoned all other remedies and continued use of your Extract of Stillingia, until I can say truly. "I ma curred of all pain," of all disease, with nothing to obstruct the active pursuit of my profession. More than eight months have clapsed since this remarkable cure, without any return of the disease. For the truth of the above statement, I refer to any gentleman in Bartow County, Ga., and to the members of the bar of Cherokee Circuit, who are acquainted with me. I shall ever remain, with the deepest gratitude, your obedient servant,

MIRACLE.

WEST POINT, GA., Sopt. 16, 1870.

GENTS—My daughter was taken on the 25th day of June, 1863, with what was supposed to be Acute Rheumatism, and was treated for the same with no success. In March, following, pieces of both began to work out of the right arm, and continued to appear till all the bone from the elbow to the aboutder joint came out. Many pieces of bone came out of the right foot and leg. The case was then pronounced one of White Swelling. After having been confined about six years to her bed, and the case considered hopeless, I was induced to try Dr. Pemberton's Compound Extract of Stillingla, and was so well estimed with its effects that I have continued the use of it until the present.

My daughter was confined to her bed about six years before she sat up or even turned over without help. She now sits up all day, and sews most of her time—has walked across the room. Her general health is now good, and I believe she will, as her limbs gain strength, walk well. I attribute her recovery, with the blessing of God, to the use of your invaluable medicine.

With gratitude, I am your truly, W. B. BLANTON. A MIRACLE.
